Pico Rivera Man Charged after Televised Police Pursuit

A 22-year-old man who led officers on a televised police pursuit in El Monte was charged today, the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office announced.

Gregory Patrick Flexen (dob 1/8/92) of Pico Rivera has been charged with one felony count of evading an officer, willful disregard in case KA107422.

The charging document also alleges that the defendant was previously convicted of aggravated battery by gassing in 2012 and vandalism in 2011.

Flexen is scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon at the Los Angeles County Superior Court, El Monte Branch in Department 2. Prosecutors are recommending that his bail be set at $95,000.

Prosecutors said on the evening of Sept. 8, officers identified a vehicle with no front license plate. They attempted to pull over the driver, who was later identified as the defendant.

Flexen ran red lights, drove on the wrong side of the road and traveled at unsafe speeds, prosecutors added.

At some point, police set up a spike strip to stall Flexen's vehicle. After his tires were blown out, the defendant continued driving until he finally came to a stop and was arrested by police.

If convicted as charged, the defendant faces a maximum sentence of five years in state prison.

The case is being investigated by the El Monte Police Department.
