

Rebecca Weiker is dedicated to creating opportunities for transformation and healing for individuals, families and communities impacted by violence and harm, Her work in Restorative Justice is inspired by her beloved sister Wendy, who was dedicated to social justice and healing and was murdered in 1992.

Rebecca received her Master's Degree in Public Health Policy and Administration (Child and Family Health) from the University of Michigan School of Public Health. She is a certified mediator and Victim Offender Dialogue Facilitator, and is a student of the practices Mindfulness and Mindful Self-Compassion. Her varied community-based work of the past thirty years has focused on supporting the safety and well-being of children, youth, and families.

Rebecca is the Program Manager of Re:Store Justice, where she leads transformative justice and healing work with victims and incarcerated individuals, both inside prisons and in the community.
